HOUSE SIMPLE RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, The House Committee on Criminal Jurisprudence determined to insure a thorough and complete consideration of the revised Code of Criminal Procedure; and

WHEREAS, The Honorable Dudley R. Mann, Jr., As Chairman of the House Committee on Criminal Jurisprudence, and the Honorable James E. Nugent, as Vice Chairman of the House Committee on Criminal Jurisprudence, provided outstanding leadership, direction and purpose of this detailed study of all provisions of this important and significant legislation; and

WHEREAS, The Chairman and the members formed a Study Group to consider the Code of Criminal Procedure and devoted themselves to this tremendous task by sacrificing their own time in the evenings and on week~~ends~~, thereby spending many hours away from their families and friends; and

WHEREAS, The Study Group on the Code of Criminal Procedure devoted an aggregate amount of time exceeding one thousand and five hundred man hours to the study and revision of the Code of Criminal Procedure; and

WHEREAS, The study group was fortunate to have the service of William G. Reid, a Legislative Intern, who attended all of its meetings, provided research and drafting services, and prepared many reports for the Group; and

WHEREAS, The staff of the Legislative Council provided many excellent services in the areas of research, drafting, and typing; and

WHEREAS, The State Bar of Texas and the Senate of Texas recognized the quality and quantity of the Study Group's efforts, and endorsed and concurred in the great majority of improvements made by the House Study Group on the Code of Criminal Procedure; and

WHEREAS, The House Conference Committee was composed of the House Sponsors of the Code, the Honorable Dudley R. Mann, Jr., the Honorable James E. Nugent, and the Honorable Terry Townsend, and also included the Honorable Walter Knapp, and the Honorable Bob Armstrong, all of whom worked diligently, faithfully, and constructively in order that the long-sought revision of the Code of Criminal Procedure might become a reality; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives extends its most sincere appreciation and commendation to the House Committee on Criminal Jurisprudence and its staff; and, be it further

RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives particularly commends the Honorable Dudley R. Mann, Jr., for his outstanding leadership, faithfulness and dedication in preparing an excellent Code of Criminal Procedure for the State of Texas, and the House wishes to extend its utmost appreciation to him, for combining his abilities, his knowledge of the law, and an inspirational willingness to devote himself to this most significant and important task; and, be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chairman of the Committee on Criminal Jurisprudence, the members of the Conference Committee, and their staff be furnished with copies of this Resolution.
